

Let us resist the ever-present desire to gratify our sinful appetites, and say "NO!" to them, lest they draw us away from God and toward idolatry.

Let us recognize the need of maintaining a daily, vital faith in God, and the need of continually humbling ourselves under the authority of God as expressed through His Word.

And by His grace and His Spirit let us do this out of love and devotion and loyalty to the One who died for us, loosed us from our sins, and purchased eternal life for us, and who is presently molding us into His own image and likeness, so that we may glorify Him in this life and enjoy Him forever!
